

Sustainable Development Pathfinder Programme

An Executive Training Programme to help you embed Sustainability in your Organisation

The concept of sustainable development embodies the growing realisation that environmental problems cannot be tackled in isolation; they are inextricably linked to economic development and social progress. Embracing sustainability by integrating economic, social and environmental policies and practices can help respond to key environmental challenges issues such as climate change and reducing carbon emissions.

For an organisation to become more sustainable, it must embark on a journey. Aspects sustainable development pathfinder programme guides you through the journey providing a clear and bespoke road map to help your organisation become more sustainable. The journey starts with environmental compliance and travels using increasingly sophisticated tools such as environmental management systems, reporting, performance evaluation through to high level sustainability management tools such as carbon footprinting.

Aspects Sustainable Development Pathfinder Programme

This programme of support is made up of a series of training modules and direct support to help you through the sustainable development journey. The modules include:

Compliance Management

A review of current and proposed legislation and the regulations that apply to your industry. It can help you ensure that you are compliant with all current environmental legislation and plan for forthcoming legislation

Environmental Management Systems

An overview of the main Environmental Management Systems; what they mean, what the benefits are and how to implement them.

Environmental Performance Evaluation

This introduces the concepts of Environmental performance evaluation which can help you identify significant environmental impacts, opportunities for better management and trends in its environmental performance.

Environmental Reporting and Communication

This module takes you through the concepts of environmental reporting and the main guidelines such as the Global Reporting Initiative.

Sustainability Tools

This module introduces various sustainability management tools such as Ecological Footprint Carbon Foot printing and “The Natural Step”.

Corporate Social Responsibility

This module integrates all the concepts, tools and techniques covered in the programme and helps you report externally. This includes reporting principles, key Indicators, vision, strategy, policies, organisation, management systems and performance.

The Aspects Sustainable Development Pathfinder Programme guides you through the journey providing a clear and bespoke road map to help your organisation become more sustainable.

For more information contact us on 01423 781218 or info@aspexint.com or visit www.aspexint.com